c. Activities Report: please describe what you have done in 2023 on behalf of this project (200 – 500 words)

Team

As a team we meet every quarter either physically or via video conferencing came together. Besides that, there are additional activities such as writing reports, accounting, communicating with Madagascar and an active commitment to raise support for several projects in Madagascar.

We are now registered as a foundation. We are still looking for a bank where we can open an account.

Training workers

The coaching of the field workers after the training continues online. They begin to gain a greater understanding of how biblical principles work.

Through the exchange of field workers and management, lives are shared and we gain more understanding of cultural difference.

Raising funds

We spend a lot of time on fundraising in the Netherlands. The 'Project Madagascar' Foundation is starting to gain more and more fame. Due to the trip to Madagascar and visits from Madagascar, a lot of time was spent on presentation.

Trips to Madagaskar

In October, a team of seven people went to Madagascar. The team provided information to adolescents in five meetings. Both to boys and girls. The girls were then given washable menstrual pads. A start has also been made on building a classroom. And a part of the board has had various discussions about the progress of matters.

Car

The previous car had so much damage from the accident that they sold it. They bought a bigger and better one again.

School:

The urgency for a different place and a new school is increasing. Student numbers are increasing. The government and the landlord set requirements, making relocation necessary. A budget has been drawn up with a description for the new school. As foundation we have drawn up a project plan. We use these to promote to various organisations in the Netherlands.

- d. How many hours are you weekly working for your mission/project? (if applicable total hours of you and spouse)

With our team we spent in a year approximately the hours on the following activities:

• Meetings and accompanying activities	350 hours
• Keep track of finances and transfers	100 hours
• Presentations	60 hours
• Recruiting sponsor	120 hours
• Preparation and accommodation visit from Madagascar	150 hours
• Preparation and stay in Madagascar	340 hours

- e. Impact: please describe the impact (longer-term) your project has caused in at least one area (100 – 200 words)

Our fund and support raising give the the missionaries the opportunity to spend more time on their calling. The budgeting training gives employees insight into their responsibilities regarding income and expenditure. As a result, they have a different attitude to life and they live more according to biblical principles.

School is a way to change a generation. They have a purpose and it keeps them off the streets. The school is also a way of evangelising. They are an example for their environment and people see the difference.

The exchange from Madagascar - the Netherlands encourages people. They are touched by what they see and hear. They join the project and see God's Kingdom grow.

The car is an important means for employees to move around, to reach other areas, to transport materials, for time savings and safety. Many things are accomplished through this car.
